Palette signs deal with Adecco in Norway

The International human resource solution company Adecco, chooses swedish software company Palette as their partner for electronic invoice processing.

Palette is the leading supplier of software for electronic invoice processing in the Nordic market with their own-developed product – Baltzar Business Arena – which makes the purchase to pay process more efficient.

Adecco is the global leader in human resource solutions with 6600 offices in 70 countries and territories. Adecco Norway will be the first to implement Baltzar – followed shortly afterwards by the remaining Adecco Nordic countries.

– “We got a really strong impression of the client focus that Palette represents. This is a very important parameter for us in our vendor selection process and Palette seems to be “living” this concept throughout their value chain. We could clearly see this reflected in the functionality and design of the final product. Thus, the software was perceived by us to be the best match against our selection criteria” says Stian Nygård, CFO Adecco Nordic Area

– “We are extremely pleased Adecco chose us as their supplier for electronic invoice processing. It is critically important that we “live the brand”, continue to focus on listening to our customers and build customer relationships.

The deal with Adecco is fully in line with our ambition to continue to establish Palette and Baltzar on the international market” Lars-Ola Petters, CEO Palette.
